

Bay Skier Dies In Squaw Avalanche For First Fatality

Believed to be the first fatality in this region resulting from skiing activities this season, although thousands visit the area each week for the sport, Hans J. Kienast, 38, San Francisco, was carried to his death in a small avalanche at Squaw Valley Saturday afternoon.

Kienast and his companion, C. D. Hammel of San Mateo had gone up KT-22 for the run down. Hammel told investigators that Kienast decided to leave the beaten trail and went northeast of the safe area in forbidden territory. They agreed to meet at the foot of the run.

Hammel waited for his friends and then notified authorities and a search was organized. Kienast was classified as an excellent skier.

The body of Kienast was found buried under only two feet of snow, one ski marking the spot where he was apparently suffocated in the moist snow. The body was found by a ski patrolman and efforts to revive the victim failed.

The slide was a comparative small one being less than 200 feet across. It occurred at the 7,200 foot level about 1,000 feet above the floor of Squaw Valley. That area had received about two feet of new snow over the hard pack since Wednesday.

Ruling Held Aid To Public Utilities

Francis Longo, manager of the Truckee Public Utility District, has returned after attending a convention of the California Municipal Utilities Association at Pasadena.

One of the principal speakers at the meeting was Alex Radin, general manager of the American Public Power Association, who pointed out that a recent decision by the United States Supreme Court could have a very favorable effect on the entire public power electric industry.

Radin told the group the supreme court decision means all utilities which purchase power from companies which operate in interstate commerce now have a clear recourse to the FPC if they feel the wholesale rates or conditions of service are unreasonable.

He said that about 900 municipalities now purchase all or part of their wholesale power from private companies. This includes the Truckee Public Utility District which purchases its power from the Sierra Pacific Power Company.

The APPA leader said that although relationship between public system and private companies are friendly, there is evidence of a "rather consistent and nationwide pattern of power company wholesale rates that are excessive and that do not reflect the economies which the companies are receiving from more efficient and liberal tax concessions."

Sierra College Will Ask Override Tax In June Election

Sierra College trustees voted Tuesday to place a 20 cent tax override issue on the June 2 primary election ballot to finance construction of needed facilities at the Rocklin College during the next ten years.

The decision was reached just in time to qualify for placing the issue on the ballot. The board endorsed Willard Dietrich's proposal after Harold Weaver, college president, declared the college could not afford to wait another year to hold a bond election.

The issue to bond for $2.5 million failed by one per cent on March 3. Under the override plan only a simple majority of votes is required, the bond issue requiring a two-thirds majority.

Passage at the primary, Weaver pointed out, would mean the state would provide $194,000 and the federal government $100,000 to the funds needed, and work can be started in 1965.

Committee Agrees On Compact Words

H. G. Loehr, Nevada County's representative on the California-Nevada Interstate Water Compact Commission, reported following a meeting of a subcommittee on fish and game in Reno last Friday, that a compact allocating eastern Sierra water between the two states has moved a step nearer if the full board accepts the agreement reached.

Language recognizing use of water for fish, wildlife and recreation as beneficial was approved at the committee meeting Loehr said. This is specified by law in California, but Nevada, while recognizing it in some instances, has no statute making fish, wildlife and recreation a beneficial use of water.

Sent to the full commission for approval was the language declaring:

"The control or use of waters for the preservation, protection and enhancement of fish, wildlife and recreation is hereby recognized as an inseparable part of the public interest in the use of water of Lake Tahoe, Truckee, Carson and Walker River Basins in both states and is therefore considered to be beneficial."

NO POLICY CHANGE FOR GOLF COURSE

Weather permitting the Ponderosa Golf Course will be opened for the season in a month or six weeks, according to Alex Stewart, one of the owners who was here this week. Stewart said the corporation composed of himself, Jackie Jensen and Reynold Johnson plan extensive improvements and have great plans for the club this year.

The corporation recently purchased the course from the Truckee Public Utility District.

Stewart said they plan to continue operating the club as in the past, cooperating to the fullest extent with Ponderosa Country Club, issuing the regular family memberships at $125 and maintaining the other established rates.

SUZIE AND THE NIGHT PLEASE LODGE CROWD

CRYSTAL BAY—"Fastest group in the West" . . . is the oft-quoted comment about the crowd-pleasing quintet—Suzie and the Night Owls —now center-staging in the Topaz Room theater-lounge and dining room of North Tahoe's delightful Nevada Lodge.

Paced by fireball Suzie, the members of this versatile quintet sing in a unique style. "Breathtaking . . ." is one way of categorizing how this fast-paced aggregation handles a musical or comedy number.

Starting with a smash entrance, the pace never slackens as they swing from number to number.
They belt out a crowd-pleasing show tune as their opening number, then they dash into a comedy routine—seemingly without taking a breath! Next, the quintet is doing the latest pop tune and ever onward and upward through a repertoire that simply won't quit.

The versatile vocal and instrumental quintet star in the Nevada Lodge's Topaz Room through April 5.

A Nevada marriage license was issued to Linda Banyard, 17, and ville. The bride-elect formerly Box yourself in.

The Volkswagen Station Wagon looks like a box because it's built like a box.

It lets you store the most possible stuff in the least possible space.

(The fact is, the VW carries more than the biggest regular wagons, and it's 4 feet shorter.)

The VW's floor plan looks like any nice little room, except it has 8 chairs, 21 windows, 5 doors and a high ceiling.

You can't see the engine because it's in the back, out of the way.

If you aren't the curious type, you may never see the engine. No reason to. It rarely uses oil between changes. And it's air-cooled, so there's no water or antifreeze.)

But the real fun comes when you climb into the box and get behind the wheel.

Ahead of you, there's nothing but view: it's head and shoulders above other cars.

Behind you, there's nothing but space. It looks a mile long, but it's really only 9 inches longer than the Volkswagen Sedan.

So you can park it like the Sedan.

And like the Sedan, you get a lot of extras (fresh-air heater/defroster, 4-speed stick shift, etc.)
at no extra cost.

Volkswagen's put everything they could think of into it. So will you.

What's doing?

Here's a comforting thought: tonight, when you switch off your lights, your telephone will stay on. There's always an operator like Patricia Eichhorn (at left) ready to give you a number in a hurry, or lend a helping hand in an emergency. And there are test crews and repairmen on the job, too. They check telephone circuits and equipment while you sleep; often fixing troubles before they happen.

Chances are you won't need your phone after you turn out the lights tonight. But isn't it nice to know that it's there if you need it, ready and waiting?

No need to jot down often-called phone numbers on easy-to-lose scraps of paper. We have a Personal Phone Directory for you to keep those numbers safe and handy. Want a copy? It's free . . . just give us a call.

Ever try a get-together with friends or relatives in different cities at the same time? All you have to do is ask the operator to set up a long distance conference call.

Don't let the name "conference" scare you, though.
It just means that everyone on the line can talk and listen to everyone else.

So next time you want to round-up the whole family, try a conference call.
It's almost as good as being under the same roof.

The management and staff of your North Tahoe

Rumors are always prevalent and never printed in this column. However, at the request of H. E. "Mac" McCoskey, owner of the Crystal Bay Club we would like to refute one. Mac says that although rumors have echoed from Nassau and Africa it is not true that the Crystal Bay Club has been sold. If and when — two big items — it should be sold he promises a scoop and headlines. Besides we'd hate to see it sold — who would we argue with if Mac weren't there?

You Can Continue To Have Experienced Representation

Without incorporation, this area is almost entirely dependent upon one man for governmental representation. That man is your representative on the Nevada County Board of Supervisors.

If the needs of this district were the same as in other parts of the county, the task would still be a big one, but they are not, and experience, judgment and knowledge of the many and varied ramifications of procedures in fiscal matters are of vital importance if we are to continue to share equally.

For more than 20 years, your incumbent supervisor has consistently devoted his full efforts to the best interests of the Fifth District.

An Open Letter To The Voters Of The Truckee-Tahoe Airport District

The four incumbent directors of the Truckee-Tahoe Airport District, in seeking re-election at the polls next Tuesday, take this means of calling attention to the fact they are currently engaged in a progressive program of development to make the Truckee-Tahoe Airport second to none in the Sierra Nevada.

In the comparatively short time the airport has been under construction, very definite progress has been made. A 6,000-foot paved runway, 100 feet wide, has been Mathewson and Don May.

KINGS BEACH ELEMENTARY THIRD AND FOURTH GRADE—Mrs. Ferrari: Van Fenner and Dannie Porath will represent our 4th grade in the spelling bee.

Renee Dessy left our class this week. She returned to her former home in Rolling Hills.

The class is learning Spanish songs. Many of them are familiar songs with Spanish words such as "Are You Sleeping," "Old MacDonald Had a Farm," and "London Bridge."

FOURTH GRADE—Mrs. Wing: Our two best spellers, who will represent our class in the schools spelling bee contest, are Gayle Hansen and Debra Bell.

The three outstanding "Conservation Week" posters were made by: David Brown, Deborah Brockelsby and Del Thompson.

At this week's student body assembly, David Briscoe and Debra Bell received pins and certificates for representing our class at the student council meetings.

In this week's mathematics test, the following boys and girls received 100 per cent: Debra Bell, Kristen Rutledge, Doug Henson, Marsha Anderson, Loretta Henson, Jeff Liddle, David Briscoe, Carol Achziger and David Brown.

constructed on the 10,400x1,200-foot area embraced by the airport. A paved parking area, an administration building, fencing and water well are all completed.

To be completed this summer are the beacon lights, landing lights, hangars and other needed facilities. Also construction to be started this summer on a paved taxiway and additional paved parking. A paved access road has been built through the cooperation of the two counties involved, and other major facilities are in the planning stage.

All the financing for the airport is carefully allocated, with 54 per cent of major construction costs coming from the federal government. Plans are now being drafted which are reaching national attention for the June 20-21 airport dedication.

These programs have been developed by your incumbent directors who desire to continue their work in a concentrated, united effort. Their re-election next Tuesday will assure this.

The incumbent directors seeking re-election are:

JACK HOULGATE — Board chairman; a graduate engineer, whose advise has saved the district thousands of dollars through his knowledge of construction. He is a licensed pilot with thorough knowledge of airport needs.

LAUREN I. RUSSELL — Command pilot of B-17's during the war, and currently head of an insurance agency. His business ability as well as his knowledge of airport needs qualifies him as a necessary board member.

ZEPH ROSE—A member of the board since its inception and member of the planning committee prior to that time. He has an MBA from Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, a graduate engineering degree from University of California and is a partner in the grocery business.

We like doing business with Murray Black

And he likes Standard's policy of supporting local business

If you had an oil well out in the ocean, as Standard often does, you'd find Murray Black a useful man. He helps to build, and also services, underwater oil wells and pipelines.

Murray is not a Standard employee...he's an independent contractor, with five other deep-sea divers on his payroll, and thousands of dollars of his own money tied up in equipment.

He started specifically to serve Standard's offshore drilling operations near Santa Barbara, and, from this small, local beginning, has become one of the busiest submarine contractors on the West Coast.

While his services are unique, he is only one of some 18,000 individual suppliers from whom Standard buys goods and services every year. Many are small, independent operators such as Murray Black.

Standard's purpose is to spread its purchasing as widely as possible, so that its dollars help to build many local businesses and communities.

Our annual shopping list is more than 50,000 items long. As our dollars flow into your community through local purchases, they help its whole economy. And the benefit, sooner or later, reaches out to you.

Planning ahead to serve you better

W. Earl and Carrie Gray of Kings Beach came home to a snow storm. The Grays had a marvelous trip to the sunny lands of Las Vegas, thence to the Arizona Inn at Tucson where they enjoyed a visit with the Pete Bennetts, summer residents of the Brockway Hot Springs and Hotel, and on to Mazatlan, Mexico, and back to Palm Springs.

Ray Gawronski has returned to Kings Beach from Sacramento. He will be associated in the TV business with Roy Leathers as business partner.

LAND EXCHANGE AT TAHOE ENDORSED

AUBURN—The board of supervisors has endorsed a proposed land exchange involving approximately 200 acres at Lake Tahoe as a move for the occupants of two summer home tracts to obtain a clear title to lots leased from the United States Forest Service.

The land exchange includes property south of Carnelian Bay in Placer County and two large parcels near Al Tahoe in El Dorado County.

Planning Director Justin F. Barber stated leases of lots in the 62 acre Cedar tract in Placer County owned 100 acre parcel Al Tahoe intend to purchase a County and a 53 acre tract near Camp Richardson west of Al Tahoe, which in turn will be traded to the forest service in exchange for titles to the government leased property.

He also won the Tall Tales contest for two years running—the third year he was unable to participate due to illness—and lost the award which had to be won three years in a row to keep. ADDITIONAL POWER
IS VOTED DISTRICT

RENO—The Incline Village General Improvement District has been given additional power of street light operation and garbage and refuse collection and disposal by Washoe County commissioners.

The district earlier had sewer and water authority. The action gives the district power to contract for new services without prior commission approval. It can contract for collection and disposal only within the district boundaries.

Tahoe Sanitation Service is expected to continue to operate in the Crystal Bay area of Lake Tahoe's north shore.

AUBURN—March 20 has been set as the final date for examinations for the position of typist clerk I, according to the Placer County Personnel Department. Date of the oral examination will be announced later.

Tuesday, March 24. His experience in aviation covers both military and civilian careers, flying all types of aircraft from light single engine to heavy four engine equipment.

A commercial pilot at 19, obtained while majoring in business administration at the University of Wyoming, Lewis entered the air corps cadet program and earned his wings shortly after Pearl Harbor. His air corps duties included pilot instruction in single and multi-engine aircraft, squadron commander, advanced instrument and air gunnery instructor, cruise control briefing officer, flight test pilot and Air Transport Command Airplane Commander on hospital evacuation flights across the Pacific.

At the conclusion of World War II, Lewis returned to civilian aviation, establishing and managing one of the larger approved flying schools in the intermountain area, supervising eight instructors as chief pilot. The airport and facilities were developed, under his direction, into a major transportation terminal into that area, serving feeder airlines between Denver and Salt Lake City.

Since the opening of the local airport, Lewis has assisted many of the local pilots in obtaining their licenses, obtained advanced ratings and renewing their interest in flying. Last summer he trained and soloed the first student from the new airport at Truckee, one of his employees.

As co-owner of the Tahoe City Washette, with his wife Dorothy, Alan Lewis is active in community affairs as a member of the Tahoe City Volunteer Fire Department, charter president of the Tahoe City-Squaw Valley Conference Association, the Elks Lodge and is currently treasurer of the Lake Tahoe Squadron of the Air Force Association.

aviation airplane owners into our area, Lewis feels that the accent must be on safety. Flying into mountainous areas and high elevation airports requires additional training for the pilots and more thoughtful development of airport and facilities to insure an unblemished safety record.

STRANGE as it seems by HIX

NEWS OF THE DEATH OF POPE LEO XIII,
July 20, 1903,
WAS KNOWN THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES
BEFORE IT WAS KNOWN IN ROME!

A REPORTER, FRIEND OF THE POPE'S DOCTOR, FLASHED IT TO NEW YORK WITHIN 9 MINUTES, WHERE IT WAS RELAIED BACK TO LONDON, PARIS, AND FINALLY, ROME!

WM. GLADSTONE,
British Statesman, CHOPPED TREES FOR RELAXATION!
HE OWNED
OVER 30 AXES, MOSTLY GIFTS FROM FRIENDS!

HOW ABOUT A LITTLE HOT SAUSAGE?

SAUSAGE WAS ONCE
BANNED AS AN INSTRUMENT OF THE DEVIL-- AND WAS BOOTLEGGED ON THE BLACKMARKET!

AS THE LION CONTINUES TO TEAR AT ALEC NORTH...
I'D DO BETTER WITH MY BARE HANDS THAN
WITH THAT RIFLE!...

BY DINT OF SUPERB STRENGTH, TARZAN PULLS THE CLAWING
ANIMAL AWAY...

WHEN HE FINALLY RELEASES IT ITS NECK IS BROKEN...

THE SHOCK OF WHAT HAS GONE
BEFORE CREATES A MOMENT
OF SILENCE... THEN—

ALEC, DARLING!
YOU MUSTN'T
DIE!...
